

Benjamin Breslauer

ESC Consultant Since: 2005

Education:

M.B.A., Harvard Business School

B.S., Engineering, West Point

CPA (Inactive)

Real Estate Broker (Inactive)

AREAS OF EXPERTISE: Accounting, finance, business management, information technology, administration, coaching

PRIVATE SECTOR EXPERIENCE: Ben has more than 40 years of experience in the financial field, having held numerous upper management positions in small to medium-sized companies. He has served as Chief Financial Officer for A & E Plastik Pak, Filmways, Inc., Open Road Industries, Kraco Enterprises, Zoetrope Studios and Lucasfilm Ltd. Having worked with companies ranging from the motion picture industry to the manufacturing and wholesale business, Ben is accustomed to adjusting to the financial situations of different organizations. Ben has been an instructor at the University of California, Los Angeles, the University of Southern California and the American Management Association.

Ben served twice as a member of the Los Angeles County Civil Grand Jury, one of which was as a foreman. He also served for two years as a Commissioner on the LA County Economy and Efficiency Commission.

NONPROFIT VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE: Ben currently serves on the Boards of American Jewish University and West Point Chapel Fund. For both boards, he is a member of their Investment Committees and Audit Committees. He is also a former board member of The Jewish Federation of Greater Los Angeles, still serving on their Audit Committee.

Ben serves on the board of the Washington Institute for Near East Policy, a Washington D.C. think tank. He is also a past President of the Los Angeles chapter of the Planning Executives Institute.

EXAMPLES OF ESC CLIENTS: SCOPE, Family Promise of the Verdugos, Wildwoods Foundation, The Friendship Circle, Etta Israel Center, Theatre of Hearts, A New Way of Life, Proyecto Pastoral, The Children's Collective, Invertigo Dance Theater

INTERESTS: Skiing, travel, Middle East policy, politics